Re: Notice of Ex Parte Presentation
In the Matter of Applications of AT&T Inc. and Deutsche Telekom AG
For Consent to Assign or Transfer Control of Licenses and Authorizations, WT Docket No. 11-65.

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On Friday, July 8, 2011, Mr. James Courter, Vice Chairman of the Board of IDT Corporation, Michael Glassner, of C&M Transcontinental, LLC, and the undersigned (both on behalf of IDT) met with Commissioner Robert McDowell and Angela Giancarlo concerning the proposed merger of AT&T and T-Mobile.

IDT's TuYo Mobile subsidiary provides affordable, pre-paid mobile services and specializes in serving low-income Hispanic consumers that are not generally served by the larger mobile services companies. TuYo Mobile re-sells the spectrum of T-Mobile pursuant to a commercial agreement between the two companies.

Mr. Courter explained that the proposed merger of AT&T and T-Mobile could jeopardize the ability of IDT and the Mobile Virtual Network Operator ("MVNO") industry to continue to provide GSM-based service. AT&T has not committed to making wholesale spectrum available to MVNOs in its application to acquire T-Mobile, and AT&T does not have a favorable track record in providing wholesale access to its spectrum. T-Mobile and AT&T are the only two facilities-based providers of GSM service; if the merger is permitted to go through, there is a great risk that MVNOs will be unable to provide competitive mobile service using the GSM standard in the United States.

Furthermore, Mr. Courter pointed out that T-Mobile has engaged in anticompetitive behavior against IDT and TuYo Mobile by threatening to cut off T-Mobile service to third-party retail outlets unless those outlets agree to discontinue selling TuYo Mobile services. This conduct is an example of the kind of anticompetitive activity that would become more common if the only two providers of GSM mobile services in the U.S. are allowed to consolidate.

Also attached to this filing is a letter from Congressman Dan Burton (R.-IN) raising questions about T-Mobile's conduct toward IDT's TuYo Mobile services and T-Mobile's treatment of similar services provided by LeapWireless.

Sincerely,
